Part-Time Senior Interior Designer (3-4 days/week)

High-End Residential | Technical Delivery Focus London | Hybrid (1 day WFH)

Sigmar is an internationally acclaimed boutique interior design studio, recognised for refined, character-rich residential interiors and uncompromising design integrity.

We deliver full interior and architectural design services, including FF&E, sourcing, procurement and styling, across the UK, Europe and the US. We are a close-knit, highly design-driven team based in the heart of London.

We are seeking an experienced Senior Interior Designer (Part-Time) to join the studio and take a key role in the technical and organisational delivery of our projects.

At Sigmar, the integration of vintage furniture is a cornerstone of our design approach. Our work is about curating spaces with an intuitive understanding of furniture design, manufacturing traditions and spatial flow.

We value quiet elegance, clever storage and interiors that feel lived-in. Joinery is therefore never purely functional, but designed to integrate discreetly, with personality, and always in service of understated beauty and ease of living.

The successful candidate must bring strong all-round technical capability, from architectural and construction-stage drawings to spatial planning and bespoke joinery design, ensuring that every element is thoughtfully integrated, fully resolved and buildable.

This position suits a technically highly capable designer seeking senior-level responsibility within a flexible working structure, while remaining fully embedded in studio life.

The Role

You will be responsible for developing and coordinating projects from concept through to site, with a particular focus on bespoke joinery, construction detailing and technical coordination.

Working closely with the Creative Director, contractors, consultants and workshops, you will ensure that design intent is translated into accurate, buildable and fully resolved packages.

This is a hands-on role requiring strong organization, autonomy and confidence managing complex technical information across multiple projects.

This is not a styling or concept-only role; applicants must be confident producing and coordinating technical drawing packages for construction.

Key Responsibilities

- Producing detailed technical drawing packages for construction, including bespoke joinery.
- Developing construction details and coordinating with architects, engineers, and contractors.
- Preparing and managing FF&E schedules, finishes specifications and budgets (EstiMac)
- Managing technical information, deadlines, and deliverables across several projects.
- Liaising with workshops, suppliers, and fabricators to resolve build details.
- Supporting design development where required, with primary responsibility for technical delivery.
- Acting as a key client contact and managing expectations.
- Maintaining Sigmar's high standards of design quality and technical accuracy.

About You

- 6–7+ years of experience in high-end residential interior design.
- Proven experience producing construction-stage drawing packages.
- Strong joinery and detailing knowledge.
- Confident coordinating with contractors and consultants.
- Highly organised, technically confident, and experienced in resolving construction challenges.
- Comfortable working independently within a small, collaborative studio.
- Professional and confident in client-facing situations.

Technical Requirements

- BA or MA in Interior Design or Interior Architecture.
- Right to work in the UK.
- Excellent written and spoken English.
- Advanced proficiency in Vectorworks, SketchUp, Adobe Suite, and Microsoft Office.
- Strong experience with EstiMac, FF&E schedules, finishes specifications, and budget control.
- Demonstrated experience delivering projects through construction, not just concept stage.

Working Pattern & Package

- Part-time: 3–4 days per week (flexible by mutual agreement)
- Hybrid: minimum 2 days in studio, 1 day working from home
- Permanent contract following probation
- Pension scheme
- Generous holiday allowance (pro-rata)
- Employee discount
- Salary: £30,000 – £45,000 pro-rata, depending on experience and technical strength.

This role is ideal for a senior designer seeking long-term involvement in technically complex residential projects within a highly design-led boutique studio, while benefiting from a flexible working pattern.

To apply, please email design@sigmarlondon.com with your CV, a PDF portfolio demonstrating high-end residential and technical work, and your availability for interview. (Portfolios aligned with Sigmar's aesthetic are strongly preferred.)
