ABOUT STUDIO MERCY

Studio Mercy is an interior design and styling studio working on high-end residential, hospitality and commercial projects in the UK and internationally. Our work is rooted in storytelling and the considered layering of furniture, art and objects.

Styling is integral to every interior project we deliver, and we also undertake standalone styling and curation commissions.

THE ROLE

We're looking for a talented Junior Interior Designer who's as excited about finding a remarkable piece of art or a beautifully considered object as they are about designing a space.

Our work ranges from complete interior schemes to styling-only projects, and you'll need to love both.

Working directly with our Founder & Creative Director, you'll be involved from concept to installation, with meaningful responsibility from day one.

We're a small, ambitious studio where everyone gets stuck in. We value initiative, creativity and hard work, and offer the opportunity to gain broad experience, take ownership and shape your role as the studio grows.

WHAT YOU'LL DO

- Interior Design Develop concepts, moodboards and presentations; produce drawing packages including layouts, plans, elevations and joinery details; prepare FF&E schedules and specifications.
- Styling & Curation Source art, antiques, vintage furniture, books, rugs and objects; develop styling schemes; work with galleries, artists, makers and dealers; support on-site styling and final installations.
- Project Coordination & Ownership Arrange client meetings, record briefs and decisions, request quotations and samples, maintain project documentation and schedules, and proactively flag issues.
- Site & Installation Attend site visits, supplier meetings, client presentations and installations, supporting projects through to completion.
- Beyond Design During quieter periods, contribute to studio development, support social content and explore how emerging technologies, including AI, can improve our creative processes and efficiency.

WHAT WE'RE LOOKING FOR

ESSENTIAL

- A degree in Interior Design, Interior Architecture or a related discipline, or equivalent practical experience.
- Minimum 1 year's professional experience within an interior design studio.
- A portfolio demonstrating excellent taste and strong creative ability.
- Strong technical skills, including accurate CAD drawing packages and proficiency in Adobe InDesign and Photoshop.
- A grafter: someone proactive, resourceful, meticulous and happy to get stuck in. Someone who takes ownership, follows through and isn't afraid to admit mistakes.
- Confident in communicating with clients, suppliers and makers, with the ability to manage your workload independently within a remote team.

NICE TO HAVE

- Freehand sketching: a real bonus, as we love ideas that start on paper.
- 2+ years' experience within a high-end residential or hospitality design studio.
- Experience in styling or art curation.
- Knowledge of bespoke furniture, joinery and fabrication.
- Proficiency in SketchUp or other 3D visualisation tools.
- Curiosity about AI, emerging creative technologies and social content.

WHAT WE OFFER

- The opportunity to work directly with our Founder & Creative Director across a varied and exciting portfolio of projects.
- Real ownership from an early stage, with the freedom to contribute ideas and make a genuine impact.
- Broad creative experience spanning interior design, styling, sourcing and curation.
- Genuine opportunities to develop into a more senior role as the studio grows.
- Flexible remote working with regular opportunities to collaborate in person.
- Travel expenses covered for agreed studio days, client meetings, site visits and installations.

We're looking for someone who wants more than just a job — someone excited by the opportunity to grow alongside an independent creative studio and help shape what comes next.
