The ideal candidate would be a highly skilled designer with strong technical skills, a good understanding of construction, 4+ years of experience post graduate working ideally on both high end residential and commercial projects. They should have excellent organizational, pre-station and communication skills.

General Responsibilities (included but not limited to);

- Assist and take direction from Anahita with concept designs, budgeting and sourcing
- Support and delivery of presentations to clients
- Managing FFE for projects from sourcing through to installation
- Prepare, manage and comment on schedules (hard finishes, FFE, sanitary etc)
- Produce construction quality drawings
- Confidently work on and manage multiple projects
- Attending site visits and client meetings with and without Anahita
- Maintain and build relationships with suppliers, makers and artists
- Organising photoshoots and installations

Key Skills and Experience Required;

- A bachelors degree in Interior design or other relevant interior based degree
- 2+ years on site with site co-ordination experience
- 4+ years post graduate experience
- Exceptional design and communication skills
- High level proficiency using AutoCAD, Adobe InDesign and photoshop, Microsoft Word and Excel, and a 3D modelling software
- Confident in reviewing and draughting technical drawings and bespoke furniture designs
- Experience in FF&E design from start to finish
- Financial understanding of projects from start to finish
- Extensive supplier knowledge
- Good knowledge of antiques, knowledge of modern and classic art a plus but not required
- Hand drawing skills
- Self motivated, work well under pressure, able to multi-task and set priorities
- UK residency with willingness to travel to clients in London and abroad as required

To apply, please send your CV, Portfolio and cover letter to contact@anahitarigby.com, clearly stating the job role in the subject of the email. Kindly note that we shall only respond to successful candidates.
