

Max Dignam Interiors

Junior Interior Designer Role

Max Dignam Interiors is seeking a junior interior designer to join its team in London. The successful candidate will have a university-level degree in interior design, furniture design or architecture, along with one to three years' experience working within a design studio, ideally specialising in high-end residential projects.

We are looking for someone driven, ambitious, creative and highly organised, with the ability to thrive within a small and fast-paced studio environment. The role offers the opportunity to work across a range of luxury residential projects internationally, supporting Max across all stages of the design process while continuing to learn and develop professionally.

The ideal candidate will be confident taking ownership of their workload, using initiative and problem-solving skills to meet deadlines and contribute creatively to projects. Strong communication skills are essential, as the role will involve presenting ideas internally and liaising with contractors, consultants and suppliers.

This is a varied and hands-on role with opportunity for growth within the studio. The successful candidate will gain exposure to all aspects of the design process and, over time, will be encouraged to take on increasing responsibility and a more leading role within projects.

Responsibilities include

- supporting concept design development and presentations through image sourcing, SketchUp modelling, Photoshop editing and preparing presentations boards
- assisting with FF&E sourcing and specification
- researching lighting, ironmongery and sanitaryware suppliers and coordinating supporting technical documentation
- researching materials and finishes, ordering samples and maintaining the studio material library
- preparing and maintaining project schedules, estimates and supporting project coordination
- supporting site visits, installations and contractor queries

Essential skills and experience

- degree or equivalent qualification in interior design, furniture design or architecture
- one to three years' professional experience within a related design practice
- strong creative and conceptual ability
- confident presentation and communication skills
- proficiency in AutoCAD 2D, SketchUp, Photoshop, InDesign, Excel, Estimac

Additional information

- the role may be offered on either a full-time or flexible basis depending on the candidate
- the studio operates with a combination of studio-based and remote working, to be discussed depending on the individual and project requirements
- applicants should be London-based or able to commute to the Knightsbridge studio as required
- salary and benefits are competitive and dependent on experience
